SAVANNAH BEGINNING PLANS FOR CARNIVAL

ANNUAL EVENT ON A LARGER AND GRANDER SCALE THAN IN FORMER YEARS EVEN.

General plans have just been announced for the 1923 Water Carnival, Savannah's mid-summer festival staged for the entertainment of the people of the Savannah zone of Georgia and South Carolina. Every indication points to a bigger and better water carnival this year and a large attendance at the festival from Savannah's neighboring counties.

This is the fifth annual water carnival and this year a big feature of the three-day celebration will be the mammoth parade of the beautiful boats upon which the county queens and their attendants from approximately forty counties within a hundred miles of Georgia's great seaport city.

Thousands of automobiles bearing the Savannah zone visitors are expected and these automobiles will be put in line of parade as they were in 1922, year before last. An attendance prize will be given the county having the largest number of automobiles in the parade behind the floats which bear the queens and their attendants.

This year's water carnival has an added day entertainment, the program opening Monday, July 2, and closing on Wednesday evening, July 4th. For the past two years the carnival celebration has been confined to a two-days program.

On June 12th and 13th the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Savannah Motor Club will send parties of business men to view the Savannah zone to extend an invitation in person to Savannah neighbors to attend the water carnival. These automobile touring parties will cover every county that has heretofore been invited to participate in the water carnival.

Several cars from the motorcycle which will make a circuit of the South Carolina counties and likewise a number of cars filled with Savannah business men will start from Savannah for Sylvania, Waynesboro, Louisville, and the neighboring cities in the Statesboro territory. The third party will tour the counties south and east of Savannah as far as Blackshear and Brunswick.

National advertised and contested outdoor motor boat regatta will be another outstanding feature of this year's carnival. All of the nationally famous outdoor motor races will be entered in a series of events calculated to set world records and attract thousands of spectators to this newest of water sports.

The winner of the Savannah water carnival beauty contest this year from among the county queens and their attendants will be sent by the associates to the Atlantic City Beauty Pageant which takes place in September. This young lady will compete with a hundred other beautiful girls from all over the United States for the honor of being Miss America.

Miss Myrtle Bowen, last year's beauty contest winner, was sent to Wildwood, N. J., where she became the queen of the annual baby parade of that city.

The queens and their attendants will be entertained at the annual queens ball at Tybee following the beauty contest.

Details of the three day program, it is expected, will be made public next week. All inquiries relative to the county representatives or other details should be addressed to the Water Carnival Association, Board of Trade Building, Savannah, Ga.

NAVY LIFE OFFERS MANY OPPORTUNITIES

Few of the citizens of Bulloch county realize the opportunities offered by the United States Navy. In order to enlist a man must be in almost perfect physical condition. Upon applying for enlistment at the recruiting office each applicant is given a careful physical examination and a medical examination. No branch of the service requires each man enlisting to be as near physically perfect as the navy. Those who pass, less than 25% of all applicants, are then placed on the waiting list to be sent to Atlanta for enlistment, as soon as vacancies occur. During the month of February 92% of the men whose enlistments expired, re-enlisted immediately and 82% for March. This will give some idea of what these men think of the navy as a life work, after serving four or more years. All applicants must have completed at least the sixth grade and statistics show that for the past six months over 45% of all men enlisted had completed at least one year high school and over 75% had finished the eighth grade.

After completing all examinations each man is required to furnish two character references from responsible citizens who have known him for at least two years. All men are enlisted as apprentice seamen and those enlisted in the south are sent to Hampton Roads, Virginia, for eight weeks' training. During this period they are taught to march, handle small arms, boats, the different knots, and most important of all to take care of his clothing and other personal effects. I stress the latter because the surprising men who these young men have depended on mother to keep the laundry, get the suit pressed, keep the buttons on and many other things embry sailors must know if they are going to put up the neat, trim appearance our navy takes so much pride in.

After completing this course of training he is then privileged to take a short furlough and upon returning is either transferred to sea or to one of the many trade schools, maintained by the navy in order to quickly prepare more men for the technical branches. These schools are filled by competitive examination, all men being eligible who are able to show the officers in charge of the training station that they are the type of man who assume responsibility and can safely be placed in charge of thousands of dollars worth of equipment.

Advancement to the young man who tries is rapid and with each promotion he receives a substantial increase in pay which is never affected by business depression. After twenty years service and while still a young man, he retires on a pension sufficient to enable him to live comfortably.

DECLARES LIFE WRECKED WILLIAMS TAKES POISON

YOUNG MAN FOUND DEAD IN BACHELOR HOME WHEN HIS FATHER COMES TO VISIT.

Jerome Williams, a young farmer living alone on the farm belonging to Judge Proctor five miles east of Statesboro, ended his life through poisoning at his home Saturday night.

His dead body was found by his father, J. D. Williams, a well known painter, when he went to visit his son Sunday morning. It was the custom of the father to spend Sunday with his boy. He went as usual Sunday morning and entered the home. He observed the young man lying across the bed, but thought he was asleep, so he did not awaken him. His attention was attracted to a note of several pages lying over upon a table. As he read the note he was amazed to find that it was in the nature of a farewell. Still, however, not suspecting that a tragedy had been wrought, he took hold of the body to find it rigid in death.

A clock on the table had stopped at 10:30 o'clock. It was believed that the young man had stopped it as an indication of the hour of his act of self destruction, though the note made no reference to the exact time.

The note consisted of about three small pages, and spoke of the young man's regret at leaving his father. He gave instructions that his mule should be taken care of and expressed a devotion to it as a faithful animal. "I have wrecked my life," he said, "and God is calling me." A few sentences more followed.

All men are enlisted as apprentice seamen and those enlisted in the south are sent to Hampton Roads, Virginia, for eight weeks' training. ### MAMMOTH CATFISH IS CAUGHT IN STEELTRAP

Fishing with hook and line in the counties of Bulloch and Screven is prohibited for the closed season beginning April 15th and closing July 1st. Fishing with traps, seines or other devices is prohibited at all times.

But there has been found a large place in the river where no restriction against fishing with steeltraps. And this rogue of fishing is about to come into popularity as a result of a report made by Mr. Opie, at Dover, who landed a 25-pound catfish by this method a few mornings ago.

Mr. Opie set out to make war on the raccoon family. Taking a steeltrap he baited it with fresh meat and placed it by the water's edge in the Ogeechee river where the coons appeared to have traveled. During the night the water in the river rose and the trap and the catfish swam up and took the bait. The trap held the fish firmly by the lip and there Mr. Opie found him the next morning.

The hardware stores will probably put in a large supply of steeltraps now for fishermen since there is no specific law against this kind of fishing.

John Oliver, sophomore of Georgia, won the championship of the Southern Intercollegiate Golf Association at the annual tournament held last week at Nashville, Tenn. John Oliver is now champion.

O. B. Keeler, nationally known sports writer of the Atlanta Journal, says: "John Oliver of Valdosta, the boy with the tonsorial hair and the flashing smile, earned a great and worthy victory. Beginning with the medal round, he fairly outplayed the field. His driving got better and better as the tournament progressed, and his steady and at times brilliant putting on grass greens was revealing to those who realized that the boy had learned his game on sand and had only recently begun to acquire a touch for the green. His putting probably was the best of the field."

PAYS HIS FIRST VISIT TO CITY OF SAVANNAH

C. L. Sammons, sixty-three-year-old farmer of Bulloch county, paid a visit to Savannah Sunday. To say that he was surprised with what he saw in the great city that was new to him would be a mild statement. Indeed, everything he saw was new, for it was his first time in his sixty-three years of living that he had been to Savannah.

More than forty years ago Charlie Sammons, then a young man, came to Bulloch county from Glascock to make his home. He married shortly after that and settled down to the making of a family and supporting that family in a creditable style. His industry kept him busy on the farm, and he had no particular business that called him toward Savannah. Therefore he just neglected to go that way. He never came home.

He visited Atlanta, Macon and Augusta, and consequently the ways of a city were not new to him; but Savannah was something entirely different, and he was interested Sunday in the sights to be seen there. Now that he had seen it, he was glad to get acquainted with Savannah he didn't intend to let it be so long before he goes again.

Next Sabbath promises to be one of great interest to the members and friends of the Presbyterian church. At the morning service the school will offer an opportunity to enroll in a business men's Bible class under the leadership of the pastor.

The hour for this initial meeting will be 10 o'clock and the place will be a separate room set apart for the purpose at the church. Every man who has not some other real religious obligation at this hour is hereby urged to be present and take part. Be prompt, please!

At 11:15 the session will meet for the reception of members, and any desirous of uniting with the church are asked to be present at this time and notify the pastor of such intention.

In connection with the morning worship, the sacrament of baptism will be administered to any candidates presenting themselves, and the communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed, to which all Christians of whatever name are invited. Especially will the members of the church be expected to be present. "The Four Bible Blood-Words" will be the subject of meditation at this service.

A special conference last Sabbath evening, a strong committee was appointed to arrange for the organization of the young people of the church. This committee will report next Sunday evening and it is expected that the work of organization will be completed at that time.

The pastor asks the hearty cooperation of every member of the church and every well-wisher that our part of the Christian responsibility of Statesboro shall not be uncared for.

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

The Middle Ground junior high school closed last Thursday night. A beautiful spring pageant and other appropriate exercises were the entertaining features for the occasion. On Wednesday night the seventh grade certificates were delivered. Miss Clay, of the Georgia Normal, made an address to the student body that was inspiring and instructive. On Thursday night Prof. Z. S. Henderson addressed the senior class and made an address that was timely and beneficial. The citizens of the Middle Ground school district are proud in their praises of the faculty that possibly gave the best school in the history of this progressive community. Prof. J. B. Wilson has been retained at the head of the school for next year. Before time for opening this fall these citizens expect to have a modern school building with modern equipment.

All teachers in all the grades should study tests and measurements before next school year. Every teacher should be able to know the ability of every child assigned to her. The waste of the child's time is criminal. The child is over-graded or under his normal grade the teacher should know it. Those children that demand the special attention of the teacher should get it. As it now is, many of the teachers devote most of their time to the brightest of those that really need the teacher's time, sympathy and attention. A teacher who is guilty of making pets of certain children whose parents happen to be their favorites or trustees or whatever the cause may be, are unworthy of the name of teacher. Children who are sent to school every day of the school year who fail to make their grade if the children are normally have been done an irreparable damage, and the teacher in charge is not worthy of the name of teacher.

The mischief done in our schools usually has its beginning on the playground. Teachers who do not supervise and direct the children's play are they who fail. We hope that trustees will insist that teachers to have charge next school year will agree to supervise the children's play hour. Teachers inside the school house having a jolly time with children outside raising sand, and then trouble that defeats the purpose for which the school is established and maintained. The teacher's job is a working job all the time.

The Nevils school gave a play for the benefit of the athletic department of the school on last Friday night that was a real success. The police and ease with which the children did their parts was very noticeable. Those present were well entertained. The loving cups won by the Nevils school were delivered on this occasion. It will be remembered that Nevils won both the literary and athletic cups on Field Day this year. Nevils school has a strong faculty, most of which will be retained another year.

Eighty-five per cent. of the teachers for our schools for term 1928-29 have already been employed. There are now available as many as forty teachers to one job in our system. If you are without a contract now, you are likely to have to go to another county for employment. It is not our fault that we have not enough jobs for all of our teachers. Nor is it our fault that you are without employment. You have had the same chance those who did get contracts.

We wish to urge all schools to report the result of the trustees elections to be held the 17th of May. Be sure to give us the names of the trustees you elect that they may be commissioned at the next meeting of your county board of education which will be held on the first Tuesday in June. Your county board will not appoint trustees to fill vacancies in any of the districts that levy local tax. The trustees must be elected by the people of the respective districts.

B. R. OLLIFF, Supt.

BROOKLET MAN LEADS AT FRIDAY'S WEEKLY SHOOT

The best shooting of this season was done over the traps of the Statesboro Gun Club Friday afternoon, when five men shot to a tie for high gun on 24 targets out of 25. The high gun went to a visitor, J. W. Robertson, of the Brooklet Gun Club who broke 25 straight in the shoot-off.

D. H. Smith in the shoot-off won the high gun medal for the week by breaking 24 out of 25. The fight was as pretty a contest as has ever been pulled at these traps, and the tension was extended to the onlookers watching the shooting. D. H. Smith and A. Dorman were still running tie up to the forty-fifth target. Dorman dropped one and Smith held the lead to the finish.

ORGANIZED CAMPAIGN AGAINST BAD STOCKS

A broad international campaign against security swindlers and fraudulent promoters, with the leading fraud-fighting agencies of the United States working in harmony and co-operation with those of the nations of Europe, was shadowed yesterday in a letter sent by E. H. H. Simmons, president of the New York Stock Exchange to the members, branch office managers and correspondents of the exchange. Pointing out that the fight against swindlers which has been vigorously waged in this country for several years by the exchange in co-operation with the better business bureaus, securities commissions and local, state and federal prosecuting officials has not been so successful as to drive many operators to Great Britain and the European continent, Mr. Simmons urged an intensification of efforts to protect investors.

"The necessity for an international campaign and co-operation," he said, "is becoming more and more obvious. That will come in due course, but in the meantime every person associated with the New York Stock Exchange should intensify his efforts to prevent the swindling of innocent investors and to the agencies engaged in this fraud preventive work, every item of information which may help in checking and punishing the swindlers."

Mr. Simmons' letter reads as follows:

"Splendid results have followed the campaign against the promoters and sellers of fraudulent securities during the past four years. You have played a large part in this fight against these swindlers and millions of dollars have been saved to innocent investors. The education of the public, enabling them to discriminate between good and worthless securities, has made great progress. The investors of the nation are being taught to investigate closely the offerings which are submitted to them, to look carefully into every proposal made to them to buy new securities or exchange old ones for such new securities, to accept nothing which they do not know to be safe and to obtain banking or other professional advice where they have the slightest doubt.

"Public and official support has been given to the Better Business Bureaus of the country which are carrying on a campaign of education, with the hearty co-operation of the press, and an intensive campaign of prosecution of the swindlers. The New York Stock Exchange has contributed to this work and through its fraud bureau, and in other ways, has helped in the work of education, investigation and prosecution. It is the duty of every member, branch office manager or correspondent of the exchange to bring to the attention of the exchange, the nearest better business bureau, the securities commissioners of his state, or the local prosecuting officials, any evidence which tends to show that there is an attempt to swindle the public through the sale of fraudulent securities.

"In response to previous letters of mine you have submitted much and valuable information which has been utilized in preventing swindling operations and driving crooked operators out of business. The necessity for this work continues and I urge you to a new and even greater effort. Whenever you help in educating the people of your community to the necessity of carefulness in the purchase of securities or bring to their attention the facilities for investigation and the securing of correct information, you are doing a patriotic work.

"Therefore I urge you again to act as watchmen for the public, to note anything that savors of swindling or crookedness in the securities field and to report it promptly to us or to the constituted authorities, to use every means to educate the public to the necessity of investigating every security that is offered to them and every person who makes such an offer. It is the hope of the exchange that eventually a network of preventive agencies, such as the better business bureaus, will be formed throughout the country so the swindler in securities will find it extremely difficult to ply his nefarious trade. Already some have fled from this country to Europe and the necessity for an international campaign and co-operation is becoming more and more obvious. That will come in due course, but in the meantime every person associated with the New York Stock Exchange should renew and intensify his efforts to prevent the swindling of innocent investors and to supply to the agencies engaged in this fraud preventive work, every item of information which may help in checking and punishing the swindlers."

Protect Your Investment in Your Model T Ford

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

More than eight million Model T Fords are still in active service, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer.

So that you may get the greatest use over the longest period of time at the lowest cost, we suggest that you take your Model T Ford to the nearest Ford dealer and have him give you an estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure may enable you to maintain or increase the value of the car and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

No matter where you live you can get these Ford parts at the same low prices as formerly and know they are made in the same way and of the same materials as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Labor cost is reasonable and a standard rate is charged for each operation so that you may know in advance exactly how much the complete job will cost.

BETTER OUTLOOK FOR A COTTON CROP

There has been much concern for the last few weeks about the condition of the cotton crop. The weather has been cold and wet, which is very unfavorable for getting a stand of cotton. However, the few days of warm sunshine the first week in May greatly improved the condition of the cotton. In Southern Georgia, farmers have cultivated their cotton as soon as the soil was dry enough to permit. This, together with a few days of sunshine, has caused cotton to stop dying and to begin growth. Much cotton was planted the first week in May in the northern half of Georgia. The rains that followed will cause the seed to germinate promptly, and if we have a period of warm sunshine rapid development may be expected.

There is no doubt but that in the sandy soils of the southern half of the state, much of the soluble nitrogen in the fertilizer has been leached down to the subsoil by the heavy rains. Not all of this has been lost, but much of it no doubt will not be available to the crop until later periods of growth, when the root system will develop to the extent that the roots will extend far enough to reach the nitrogen that has been carried downward. Therefore, there is danger that growth for a few weeks will be slow unless additional readily soluble nitrogen is applied. A side dressing of some readily soluble nitrogen, such as nitrate of soda, would stimulate growth and help the crop to overcome the stagnant condition that much of it now is in. It would also feed the crop until the root system could reach the nitrogen that has been carried downward. We believe that a side dressing of some readily available nitrogen such as nitrate of soda at this stage would be very beneficial. It will not only stimulate growth, but would also stimulate early fruiting, which with the boll weevil outlook, would be very desirable.

The phosphoric acid and potash have not leached very much and it will not be necessary to make a second application of these elements, if liberal amounts were applied before planting. The side dressing of nitrogen should be made as soon as possible after the cotton is large enough to be cultivated. We believe that with a little sunshine and a side dressing of readily soluble nitrogen, cotton will improve very rapidly.

We have seen very little evidence of boll weevils, but enough to know that it will pay to have poison on hand and be ready to give the pest a dose when he shows signs of activity. The indications at the present time are that early poisoning, especially in the southern half of the state, will be very profitable this year. The season is late and most of the wintered weevils should be out before any squares are formed for the weevils to lay eggs in. Therefore, if poison is applied just before the squares form, it will be possible to clean out the wintered weevils to the extent that at least a bottom crop of cotton can be obtained and if the weather is fairly dry, in July and August, it will be possible to get a good top crop also.

MOTORISTS ARGUE FOR ADDITIONAL SAFETY MEASURES ON HIGHWAYS

Convince Officials of Perils on Many Crowded Roads—
Prevention of Dust an Important Matter to Be Considered.

The White Painted Guard Rails Help to Make Curves Safe for the Motorist.

DESPITE the increase in the use of white painted guard rails, whitewashed traffic indicators of one sort or another and more elaborate danger signals, automobile accidents are steadily growing more numerous, automobile associations point out in reviewing the summer's casualties.

The next great important step to reduce the number of accidents will be the elimination of dust, in the opinion of those associations.

Dust, in spite of the greater mileage of concrete roads, is causing many accidents, a condition due in part to the constantly growing highway congestion.

YOUR SNEEZE MAY NOT BE FROM COLD

Draft May Have Nothing to Do With the Matter—
Million Particles.

WHEN you sneeze it is not always a sign you are taking cold. That is the opinion of physicians working on public health problems in the last few years. Most men and women when they feel that tickling in the nose or throat, immediately look for the nearest door or window, convinced that they are sitting in a draft.

However, the draft, if there is one, may have nothing to do with the matter at all, physicians say. "The unhappy sneezer has inhaled a few million or so dust particles."

That may be true particularly of our cities where enough dust floats in the atmosphere in one year to build a one-inch-thick mountain 1,500 feet high, with a five-mile diameter.

Some statisticians have figured it out that all the dust that hovers above American cities were gathered in one place, say Manhattan Island, that dust could be piled up on the streets of Manhattan to the depth of 21 feet.

KANSAS FAVORS GRAVEL HIGHWAY

THE Kansas Highway Commission has adopted a definite policy of using sand and gravel on all the roads it can improve that way for the present.

"Gravel and sand cost only $1,500 to $2,000 a mile," said John Gardner, Highway Director. "By using these materials, which are plentiful in many sections, we can build roads passable at all seasons without difficulty or long delay. They are easy and inexpensive to maintain. By using the calcium chloride, the gravel and sand are held together and the dust is eliminated. Of course, these roads will have to be rebuilt in five or six years, but we feel that it is better to build that way and get as many people out of the mud and as possible rather than build short stretches of more permanent and more expensive roads, just at this time."

HUBERT COLORED SCHOOL HAS CLOSING PROGRAM

Hubert, Ga., May 14th.
Editor of Bulloch Times:

Please allow space in your paper to speak of the educational day at Hubert colored school May 14th.

First was a song, "America," then invocation; song, "Lord, I Want to be a Christian in My Heart." After this Mrs. D. L. Deal, of Statesboro, delivered a very interesting address which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Julia Adams and Mrs. Smith (colored), of Statesboro, also were present and addressed us along the lines of education.

Mr. C. G. Peebles, Mr. P. S. Richardson and Mr. E. H. Robertson also spoke very encouragingly. After the exercises a barbeque dinner, with the many other things, was served. The attendance was large, both of white and colored people. All seemed to enjoy the day.

Went to Pieces

"I suffered a long time, before I tried Cardui," says Mrs. Lillie Pruitt, 130 "K" St., Anderson, S.C. "I was badly run-down in health. My nerves went to pieces, and I had to go to bed."

"I got so bad off, I could not bear to have anybody walk across the floor of my room. The least little thing upset me. Sometimes I became hysterical. I had bad pains in my back and sides, and my head and limbs would take spells of aching, which almost set me wild. "One day I saw where a woman, who had a trouble like my own, had been relieved by Cardui. I decided at once to try it. It began to help me from the very first. I took Cardui regularly, for several months, and my improvement was so remarkable my family and friends were delighted." Try Cardui for your troubles.

SCIENCE SHOWS SLEUTHS OF FUTURE MAY OUTDO EVEN SHERLOCK HOLMES

Particles on Clothing May Show Man's Occupation and Home Town—French Investigator Paves Way With Microscopic Examination to Convict Slayer.

When Sherlock Holmes looked at a man's shoes and saw red on them, the great detective of fiction could tell instantly the locality from which the man came. Detectives of the future will be able to go Holmes one better. If one may judge from some of the scientific studies now being made upon dust particles, a steel worker will have fine particles of steel clinging to his clothing, no matter how often he may brush them. Such particles might be removed by brooms, vacuum cleaners or steam mops, but a sufficient number remain for determination by a microscope.

So likewise might other occupations be determined: a school teacher, from chalk dust; a jeweler from gold and silver particles; a druggist from chemical specks; a lumberman from minute fragments of wood, and so through most of the scale.

In the same way a man's city may be determined by analysis of dust found in his clothing. If it contains much carbon or coal, he probably comes from Scranton; if copper, from Butte, Montana; if bits of minute coral, from St. Augustine, Florida, whose streets are paved with coral, and similarly down the list.

No one pretends that the list at this time is accurate. But some patient investigators in the future may compile a list of occupations, as well as of cities, with all the precision that the advance of science may bring to it, and then the job of the detectives promises to be easier.

A few years ago a French scientist was able to help the police to convict a man suspected of a certain murder in a quarry. The suspect said he had been sleeping in the fields. Microscopic examination of the man's clothing revealed the presence of quartz stone traces. The man then confessed.

Library and Non-Denominational Church Will Rise on Broad Acres Near Philadelphia—Celebration Arranged for June to Mark 150th Year.

Washington's Headquarters and Memorial Arch at Valley Forge. The Walk Approaching the Arch Has Been Chemically Treated.

For which will be laid June 18, 1928, as the closing feature of the Sesqui-Centennial observance.

History only will have a place on the library shelves. Each state will be represented by works dealing with the history of that state and the library will have, therefore, 48 volumes.

Valley Forge, center of the nation's interest of thousands and thousands of visitors from every section of the country, as well as from abroad.

Railroads and automobile bus companies regularly run excursions to the famous old shrine of patriotism and on Sundays and holidays even the broad acres of Valley Forge are tamed for space by the huge throngs.

In addition many visitors travel by private motor cars over the excellent roads, kept in a constant condition by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

All roads to Valley Forge run through a landscape of remarkable beauty, and these roads are treated, as necessity arises, with chemicals, especially calcium chloride, to lay the dust.

Only 22 miles from Philadelphia, the shrine has long been one of the favorite objectives for daily excursions for Philadelphia, as well as for visitors to the city.

Valley Forge trip with a tour of other places of historic interest, such as Independence Hall, the Betsy Ross House and other relics of the Revolution.

That interest is expected to be stimulated by the forthcoming celebration.

CLEAN gasoline...SAFE oil

... today's motors need them

NOW, more than ever before, motors need the extra protection that Pan-Am oil gives. They operate at speeds that develop terrific engine heat. Heat that soon thins and breaks down ordinary motor oils.

Pan-Am motor oil is safe because it is refined from paraffin base crudes that produce a tougher oil. Thus it holds its body, mile after mile... keeps the hottest friction spots safe from destructive wear.

Your modern car will also perform much better with clean Pan-Am gasoline. Unusual care in refining has removed the dirt and carbon-forming elements found in many gasolines. That means a cleaner motor—less carbon trouble—more power and mileage.

Fill up today at the first Pan-Am pump you see. You can be sure of honest service from any Pan-Am dealer. And you know that the products he sells are produced and distributed by one reliable organization.

WHEN you gamble with cheap oil, the odds are all against you. You stake a valuable motor against a few pennies difference in price. The pennies you save may later go out as dollars on repair bills that a good motor oil would have prevented.

"STANDARD" MOTOR OIL is refined up to a standard—not down to a price. It is the most popular motor oil wherever it is sold, because motorists KNOW from experience that it gives them the best lubricating value.

STUDEBAKER'S $795 ERSKINE SIX

Sets Ten New Records by Traveling 1000 miles in 984 minutes

ON April 26, two strictly stock Erskine Club Sedans—exactly like those you can purchase from any Studebaker dealer—each traveled 1000 miles in less than 1000 consecutive minutes.

The run took place at Atlantic City Speedway, and was supervised by officials of the American Automobile Association who verified the stock design of the cars.

As a result, ten new records for stock cars under $1000 were established by the Erskine Six. And Studebaker has demonstrated that its 76-year-old traditions for careful building are carried through in the design, materials and workmanship of this low-priced fine car—named for Albert Russell Erskine, Studebaker's president.

Although sold at the lowest price at which any Studebaker-built car was ever offered ($795 f. o. b. factory), Studebaker has not permitted any compromise in the materials or workmanship entering into the Erskine Six. That is why this car was able to travel 1000 miles at better than a mile a minute—why you can drive your Erskine Six 40 miles an hour even when NEW—why the Erskine is so economical to maintain and to operate.

A few minutes behind the wheel of the New Erskine Six will introduce you to a type of performance as sensational for its price class as that of the World's Champion Commander is to the field of higher priced cars.

VINEYARD COMPANY TO ENLARGE ACREAGE
MORE THAN HALF MILLION DOLLARS TO BE PUT INTO PROPERTY NEAR STILSON.

(Savannah Morning News)

The half-million capital stock to the Georgia Vineyard Company, which plans the growing of grapes in Georgia on a large scale, has been oversubscribed, according to an announcement made yesterday by J. E. Clancy, secretary-treasurer.

This stock was subscribed following a three-day outing to Savannah and the farms of the company near Stilson by twenty interested financiers from New York and heads of large vineyards in California, who were here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Stock to the value of $100,000 was withdrawn by M. Carbone, the president of the company, which will be offered to any local people who wish to take a part in the development, which is expected to be completed for the future of South Georgia. Mr. Clancy stated yesterday afternoon when he gave out the information. Mr. Carbone declared to the visitors that he had been given such wonderful treatment by Savannahians and others living in Bulloch county where the vineyard is located, that he was first going to give his friends here an opportunity to invest. No solicitation of stock will be made, he said. Those who have already subscribed are anxious to take up the entire amount, and they will be permitted to do this if it is found no local people are interested, Mr. Clancy said.

Quite a number of local people who have been closely associated with the industry since it was started three years ago have taken shares for varying amounts and Mr. Carbone takes the position that as this will be of great benefit to the entire state and especially to Savannah, the company feels that a certain amount of the stock should be offered to local people.

"I want it understood, however, that there will be no solicitation," Mr. Clancy stated. "The people who were here for three days looking over the proposition were anxious to absorb it all, and they will be permitted to do so if it is found that local people are not interested."

"With the financing out of the way, the company will begin at once plans for planting a minimum of 2,000 acres in grapes during the next eighteen months, it was announced, and this acreage will be gradually increased from year to year until the company has holdings of 4,000 to 5,000 acres.

"People unacquainted with the grape industry cannot visualize what such an industry on so large a scale will mean to this section," Mr. Clancy said. "The third year, which is the first in which a commercial crop is gathered, the production is approximately three tons per acre. Each year the tonnage increases, amounting to approximately double the fourth year. Old vineyards in California produce as high as eighteen tons per acre. Ten to fifteen tons per acre is the average of a full grown vineyard."

After the vineyards begin to bearing thousands of people will be needed to gather, pack and prepare the grapes for shipment, and this, according to those interested, will give employment to a great many people at a season of the year when business is usually at its lowest ebb, July and August.

The vineyard was started at Stilson three years ago, when Mr. Carbone came to Georgia from California through information furnished him by the Board of Trade. He got in touch with Mr. Clancy, who has acted as agent for the company since the development was first started. When the company was incorporated, Mr. Clancy was made secretary-treasurer.

The easterners who spent three days in Savannah last week and who took most of the stock were entertained while here by Mr. Clancy and the Board of Trade. The entertainment consisted of a luncheon at the De Soto Hotel Wednesday, a harbor call at the farms of the company Thursday, and a boat ride and fishing trip Friday. A number of them are planning to return to Savannah this fall for an outing and several said they were planning to bring a number of their friends with them.

The company is going to use cleared land in large acreages and Mr. Clancy is looking out after this part of the development.

There will be three tours, where a party of twenty-five men and five automobiles will visit fifteen towns and cities; the second division will visit the counties immediately to the west and northwest of Savannah, and the third division immediately to the southeast as far as Ware county. Full itinerary and schedules of these tours will be released for publication next week.

In all twenty-two Georgia counties and nine South Carolina counties will be visited by the three touring parties in the interest of the water carnival. The schedule is so arranged as to permit the touring parties to stop one-half hour to one hour in the towns visited, except the towns where lunch will be taken and where the parties will spend the night. These tours are being promoted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce with the Savannah Motor Club co-operating.

The Savannah business men on the tours will formally extend invitations to the city and county officials and all citizens of the counties to be visited to attend the mid-summer celebrations and to be represented by the county queens and their attendants. The queens will be the guests of the water carnival association and will be royally entertained.

METEOR SHEDS LIGHT OVER BULLOCH COUNTY

The brilliant meteor which made its appearance in the heavens about 12 o'clock Tuesday night and which has been reported from every section of South Georgia, included Bulloch county in its itinerary. All the excitement it created anywhere else, Bulloch county citizens experienced, with a little in addition.

Midnight is said to be the hour when "honest men should be added and rogues should be traveling." Both of these classes had an opportunity to see the meteor. Many persons presumably citizens were awakened in their beds, and those who were on the road were amazed at the phenomenon.

One of the city letter carriers, awakened by the appearance, is said to have gotten out of bed, armed with his gun, rushed to the door to drive away the intruder. Covering one door, he called his wife to him, so sure was he that his home was about to be entered.

Guy Wells, J. E. McCrean and a newspaper man, returning from Baxley, were near Lane's bridge when the strange light appeared. Wells thought it was a "fairy cross" demonstration by a certain anti-Smith organization. McCrean thought the car he was riding in had suddenly sprung into a blaze. The other man stopped thinking for several moments.

In appearance the meteor was as if a long continued flash of lightning had darted through the heavens and hung there for a brief moment, dying without the accompanying roar of thunder. The noise that followed was very slight, and was the result, of course, of the vibrations set in motion by the passage of the meteor. In Emanuel county it is said that persons believed the body had fallen near Midville and searching parties went out next day to locate it. Nothing has been discovered, however.

FORMER LOCAL MEN ARE GROWING IN BUSINESS

Herbert Winn and S. C. Moon were formerly residents of Statesboro and were engaged in the drug business with local firms. For the past several years they have been employed in Athens, and recently became owners of the firm with which they were employed. Their many friends in Statesboro will, therefore, be interested in mention of the enlargement of their business, taken from a recent copy of the Athens newspaper:

Extensive improvements have added much to the facilities and appearance of the Moon-Winn Drug Company's store at the corner of College Avenue and Clayton street, and this new firm is to be congratulated for their progressiveness in giving to Athens a store and service that ranks high in their line in the state.

In addition to their drug and sundry stock, they operate a soda fountain and luncheonette and rapidly increasing patronage in all departments has necessitated enlarging their store. They have remodeled the interior by condensing the pharmaceutical department, and fixtures and moving the large center cases back ten feet, giving an additional floor space of 200 feet for their service department, and the enlargement of their displays and stock of sundries.

The installation of a new Bilt-Right soda fountain is one of the new features, adding to their facilities as well as to the beauty of the store. The new black and white font is sixteen feet long, has ten syrup jars, four crushed fruit jars, and the ice cream cabinets have a capacity of fifty gallons. The font has many new improvements over the old styles and is one of the most modern and sanitary type, having every detail for the dispensing of pure drinks and frozen dainties with the utmost dispatch. Twelve tables are provided for ice cream and luncheonette service.

The personnel is composed of Doctors S. C. Moon and Herbert Winn, Messrs. R. C. David, Henry Winn and LeRoy Edwards, with Mrs. Lamar Rucker Lyndon in charge of the luncheonette.

"HE'S MY PAL" TO BE PRESENTED AT REGISTER

The senior class of the Register High School will present their play, "He's My Pal," on Friday evening, May 25, at the high school auditorium.

The play, "He's My Pal," a comedy-drama in three acts, is too good to miss. It is a very modern play—the story of a boy who finds that the girl to whom he is in love with his best friend.

It is full of romance, sentiment and plenty of fun is furnished throughout the play by the old negro cook. It is also fun to see how the hen-pecked husband is placed on his feet again.

Five pretty choruses add a great deal to the performance. Curtain will be promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend. Admission will be only 20 and 35 cents.

ELDER HENRY SWAIN.
Who will preach the baccalaureate sermon at Register next Sunday.
